Stand 26.06.2020

An architectural rendering of a modern residential complex. The complex consists of several multi-story buildings with light-colored, possibly white or light grey, facades. Each building features numerous large, dark-framed windows. The buildings are arranged in a grid-like pattern, separated by paved walkways and green spaces. Large mature trees are scattered throughout the complex, providing shade and greenery. The overall design is clean, modern, and emphasizes a connection with nature.
